

Health Savings Account Enrollment Guide

What is an HSA?

An HSA is a savings account where tax-free or tax-deductible deposits are made to pay for qualified medical expenses. HSA money can be used to pay for eligible expenses today or can be saved for future expenses. There is no "use-it or lose-it" at the end of the year. An HSA is owned by the participant and they retain ownership even if they change employment.

Know the Rules:

- Participants must have coverage under an HSA-qualified "high deductible health plan" (HDHP) to open and contribute to an HSA. Generally, this is health insurance that does not cover first-dollar medical expenses.
- Contributions to an HSA can be made by the participant, the employer, or both. HSA contributions are limited to a maximum each calendar year.
- HSA contributions may be made pretax through an employer or with post-tax dollars. If made with post-tax dollars individuals may take a deduction on their tax return.
- Once enrolled in Medicare, participants are no longer eligible to contribute to an HSA. However, the funds in the Health Savings Account are still owned by the account holder and can be used to pay for medical expenses tax-free.
- HSAs may be used to pay for eligible medical expenses of the participant, spouse or dependents.
- Only eligible medical expenses can be reimbursed under the plan. Eligible expenses are defined by the IRS. See the next page.
- Ineligible disbursements will be taxed and a penalty may apply.
- The funds in an HSA are always owned by the participant even if they:
 - Change employment
 - Change medical coverage
 - Become unemployed
 - Move to another state.
- Unlike other medical spending accounts, HSA funds remain in the account year to year. There are no "use-it or lose-it" rules for HSAs.
- Participant's contributing to a HSA may not participate in a "general" health (medical) FSA at the same time. They may participate in a "limited" health FSA which can be used to pay for dental and vision expenses only.
- HSA funds may earn interest and can be invested in mutual funds. Earnings in the account are tax-free.
- Eligible individuals who are 55 or older are eligible for an additional $1,000 catch-up contribution. In general, catch-up contributions for a spouse must be made into a separate HSA account opened in the name of the spouse.

An individual can contribute to an HSA if they meet the requirements:

1. Have coverage under an HSA qualified "high deductible health plan" (HDHP).
2. Are not covered by any other health plan including a general health FSA.
3. Are not enrolled in Medicare.
4. Cannot be claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return.
